

(1) Sally, who married Andrew Lester, father of Orrin Lester, and grandfather of Mrs. N. R. Kennedy and great-grandfather of Calvin, Lester W. and Rudolf H. Kennedy. The Lesters lived on the farm now owned by Mrs. Wesley Peck.

(2) Nathan L., who married Pamela, daughter of Stephen King, and lived on the farm until lately owned by his son, Robt. H. Kennedy, later by his grandson, Wellington K. Kennedy, Elmer, N. Y., and now owned by Frank Hauenstein.

(3) David, Jr., who married Rhoda Stearns and lived with his father, David, Sr., on the "old Kennedy homestead" before mentioned.

(4) Nancy, who married Jonathan Wilber and lived on the farm recently owned by Nathan R. Kennedy and now occupied by Mrs. Nathan R. Kennedy and her son Calvin.

(5) Charles, who married Sarah Bass and lived at the foot of the "Wheeler Hill" on farm now owned and occupied by George Wildenstein.

I remember four at least of the children of David Kennedy, Sr., namely: Sally, who gave me the first pair of woolen mittens that I remember to have worn; Nancy, who told me child stories; Nathan, my grandfather, who gave me many books because I loved to read, and Charles, whose farm adjoined ours and whose peaches and pears were very tempting and sometimes I am afraid found their way under my jacket. I can give the families of David Kennedy, Senior's children only in part as I remember them and would gladly be corrected.

(1) Robert's children were Robert M. (Esquire Kennedy) as many here remember; Nathan E., a merchant who lived on Kennedy Hill, Gibson township, Susq. Co., and Maria, who married Mr. Gallup, then Mr. Cary, and later John Bigelow. Her children were Mary Gallop; Eliza, wife of Thomas L. Mumford; Matilda, wife of Asher Woodward; Benton, Sarah, Arthur and Henry.

(2) Eunice, who married Benj. King, whose children were Benjamin and Robert of Starrucca, and Sally Ann, who married Reuben Peck of Aldenville, Esquire Albert Peck and E. M. Peck, our president, are children of Reuben and Sally Ann Peck.

(3) Sally Kennedy, married Andrew Lester. Their children as far as I know are Asa, David, Orrin and Emeline, wife of the late Dr. Rodney Harmes and mother of the late Dr. Rudolf Harmes and Mrs. Kate Lempke.

(4) Nathan L., my grandfather, married Pamela King. They had ten children. I am not certain as to the order in which they came into the family but am sure as to their names having known them all except two who died before my remembrance:

(a) Amos, married Aune Asenath, (never knew her maiden name.) Nathan L., of California was their son.

(a) Amos, married Aunt Asenath, Tuttle Peck. William H. of San Bernardino, Cal., is their son.

(c) Robert H., married Charlotte Wheatcraft. Children: Nathan R. Wellington K., Eunice, wife of the late F. M. Bigelow and Rebecca, wife of John Giles.

(d) Katharine Elizabeth who married Godfrey Stevenson. Their only child is Angeline, wife of Chas. E. Miller.

(e) George Washington, who married Fama Stevenson, and later Mary Baxter. Children by first wife were Violette, wife of J. J. Burcher; Edward, Louisa of Honesdale, and Alexander. By second wife: Philip H. of Clinton; Margaret, wife of Martin Healy, Pittston; John D. of Vandling, our vice-president, and Mary, wife of James P. O'Neill.

(g) Seth, married Harriet Graves. Children, Frances, wife of Philo Bass; Densmore of Deposit, N. Y.; John Lewis, died in Arizona, and Alexander A. of Pleasant Mount. Seth was killed in his mill while oiling the machinery, May 13, 1865.

(h) Lewis, medical student, who died when only a young man.

(i) Alexander, accidentally shot and
